

1988 911 Carrera Coupe

$23,900

Guards Red with black interior in a very, very well kept coupe. How's the engine? How about zero detectable leakdown on all 6 cylinders? I would say it's fairly strong! Guards Red is a great color for an eighties 911 but it can fade if not properly maintained. Not so here, this paint looks beautiful indicating constant care and waxing. An inspection of the interior shows the same with almost no evidence of bolster wear. If you are looking for a solid, well cared for G50 Carrera coupe this is the car. No wonder as it has been in the same ownership for the past 10 years, for sale now only because of a growing family. Recent maintenance includes a new clutch 7000 miles ago along with numerous records dating back to the mid 90s. A super solid car at the right price.
